

Personality Styles Teaching Strategies

Intuitive Feeling Students

• need open-ended discussions • need history personalized (biographies and autobiographies) • need options for personal choice and self-expression • like interpreting poetry • like metaphors, creative writing, drama, and art • need to be treated as a unique individual • like cooperative projects

Intuitive Thinking Students

• need a part in making the rules • need stated purpose • like creative experiments and projects • like logically presented lectures • like Socratic question and answer sessions • like to research • like debates • like challenges • like independent projects • need chances to invent

Sensing Judging Students

• need step-by-step activities • need factual presentations • need step-by-step activities • like workbooks • need assignments to be clearly explained • need repetition and drill exercises • write factual information • like teacher-led question and answer sessions • like memorization • need structure

Sensing Perceiving Students

• like fast-paced activities • experiment with tools • like performances and drama • like competitive challenges • like hands-on activities • like surprises • like debates • like demonstrations • like audio-visuals • work well with immediate rewards and punishments